

Things to do when you are visiting CSU

Take a University Tour

Contact the admissions office in order to set up a university tour. There are different opportunities depending on the type of student you are so check out their website and see what's offered.

<http://admissions.colostate.edu/visitcampus/>

Set Up an Appointment with an Academic Success Coordinator

If you are considering the Biological Sciences or Zoology major, it may be beneficial for you to meet with an academic success coordinator. They can go through the major with you and discuss the degree requirements so you can see what the course load looks like for students in our major. Appointments can be scheduled online at <http://www.biology.colostate.edu/undergraduates/schedule-an-appointment/>. If you have any questions, or if you have trouble scheduling an appointment, please feel free to contact the undergraduate coordinator at 970-491-3352.

Set Up a Department Tour or a Meeting with a Faculty Member

If you are interested in doing research, or studying a specific subject matter, the Biology Department home page lists all of our faculty members as well as their area of expertise. If there is a faculty member doing research in an area that interests you, reach out to them directly to try and set up an appointment. If you have general questions about the department, you can contact the undergraduate coordinator at 970-491-3352 to arrange a general tour of the biology department.

Visit the CNS Learning Community

The College of Natural Sciences has a dedicated learning community for students in select majors. Students in the learning community live in select dormitories in addition to other benefits. You can find more information about the CNS Learning Community at <http://www.natsci.colostate.edu/future-students/cnslc/>. You can also contact Lisa Dysleski, the director of the CNS Learning community to ask more questions or set up a time to tour the community.

Places To Make Note Of

Many of these places may be stops on the university tour given by the Admissions office but they may be worth exploring on your own time – the Morgan Library, The Lory Student Center, the Rec Center and TILT (office for tutoring).

Parking at CSU

When parking on campus, a valid permit is required in all lots. Signs in each lot designate which type of permit is required. Short term parking and day passes are available. For more information about parking on campus, online visit www.parking.colostate.edu.

Old Town Fort Collins

Old Town Fort Collins is just north of the university and a popular place among students and locals. In addition to the occurrence of seasonal events, there are a lot of great restaurants and shops in the older part of town. If you have time to kill, it's worth walking around to get the jist of Fort Collins life.